What is WEXO?

- WEXO is a networking community for work experience, internships and jobs.
- WEXO connects exciting companies to enterprising people.
- WEXO's technology matches candidates to opportunities and manages applications.

How does WEXO work?

- WEXO has over 400 companies offering opportunities to a talent pool of students and graduates.
- Users can create profiles and search for FREE. A one-off membership fee of just £10 allows them to identify company details, apply for positions and access membership benefits (discounts, events, advice, CV guidance etc)..
- Companies can create profiles and post opportunities for FREE. Premium options allow them to promote them, source targeted candidates and choose how applications are received.
- WEXO has access to government programmes which can exempt graduates and companies from Tax and National Insurance with occasional subsidies: tinyurl.com/WEXO-BIS

Who's behind WEXO?

- WEXO is the brainchild of London fixer Harry Becher and ex-investment banker Robin Kennedy.
- WEXO is backed by respected and accomplished angel investors and advisers, an partners.
- We particularly cater for smaller, younger companies that lack the reach and resources of their larger counterparts.

“ Our vision is to be the primary online networking community for those requiring or offering work experience, internships and jobs. ”

Harry Becher - Founder, WEXO

“ Our mission is to promote merit as a foundation for working relationships between enterprising people and dynamic companies. ”

Robin Kennedy - Co-Founder / CEO, WEXO

“ I know that it could not have been possible without WEXO. So thank you, thank you, thank you! It was the best 10 pounds I ever spent and I have told everybody on my course about you guys! ”

Pauline, WEXO member

“ We get about 40 CVs a month for work experience which clutter desks and take too long to sort through efficiently. WEXO allows us to cherry-pick the most suitable applicants as and when we want them. If we need someone who speaks French, can use Excel and has an interest (or even a degree) in marketing, we can get them through WEXO. ”

John Gordon - CEO, Xtreme Information

Some more companies on WEXO...

“ Searching for job security in the recession, one in three students now say they're less likely to apply for a small or medium sized business. Yet it's those smaller businesses that will offer the best opportunities and will be the first to produce the green shoots come the recovery. ”

Martin Birchall - MD, High Flyers Research

“ I have always valued work experience as something that can differentiate dreamers from people with real drive. However, companies often misconceive the value proposition as being one-sided. In reality, not only do students gain valuable insight and new skills but companies get the chance to tap into fresh thinking whilst connecting with the next generation of employees. We use WEXO at Hamilton Bradshaw and I would thoroughly recommend it to anyone else. ”

James Caan - Entrepreneur and star of Dragons' Den

“ What a great idea! There are so many people looking for work experience and so many great companies with fantastic opportunities. We found a fab intern very quickly using WEXO and hope to secure more in the future - I would recommend this facility to all employers/students. ”

Kate de Beer - HR Manager, mydeco.com

“ A growing proportion of the positions offered on WEXO are internships - as ever, we believe that internships give companies AND users a cost effective and non binding solution to financial and commitment concerns allowing them to try each other out before they pursue more permanent arrangements. ”

Vanessa Brown - Marketing, WEXO

“ WEXO - genius new company offers work experience to guys and gals of any age at groovy companies like Giorgio Armani, Dunhill, Sony and Working Title... ”
